Crime

Eleanor is a CPS Level 1 Panel Advocate and has dealt with a range of matters within this capacity, having prosecuted regularly in the Crown Court and the Magistrates Court. Eleanor regularly deals with serious and complex cases including conspiracies relating to theft, serious assaults in a domestic setting and exposure in public.

Eleanor has also defended in a range of cases, representing clients from first hearings and trials in the Magistrates Court to sentences and appeals in the Crown Court. She also has experience of dealing with sensitive matters in the Youth Court and prides herself on her client care and ability to handle witnesses, clients and professional connections. Recently, she prosecuted a multi-handed youth trial wherein joint enterprise was a live issue.

Eleanor has a keen interest in crime and a methodical and thorough approach to her work which has been apparent from the feedback received. She would gratefully receive instructions in a variety of criminal proceedings.

Regulatory & Public

Eleanor has a growing regulatory and public law practice. She recently represented Humberside Police in securing an interim Violent Offender Order ahead of the final contested hearing and has spent time advising on the COVID-19 health regulations procedure used by the police throughout lockdown.

Eleanor has also spent a significant amount of time taking noting briefs for the Health and Safety Executive as she has a keen interest in health and safety within the work place. Eleanor has an extensive background in agriculture and is hoping to build a successful practice in environmental, agricultural and waste management matters using her first-hand expertise in the area. She would be grateful to receive instructions assisting the police, health and safety and agricultural matters
